Special Edition: 2024 Mackinac Policy Conference

More than 1,500 business and political leaders will gather for the state's premier public policy event of the year and the Detroit will be there as the official publication for the Conference.

The special Conference edition will serve as the must-read for Conference attendees and Chamber members back home.

The edition will be filled with articles featuring Conference speakers on issues of importance to Southeast Michigan's business community. Conference committee members, legislators and attendees will also contribute to this exciting publication.

This special edition of the Detroit will be circulated to Chamber members and have expanded distribution during the Conference to attendees at Grand Hotel and other island hotels and popular meeting spots.

A limited amount of space is available in this issue for advertising. Some placements will include access to one reservation for a hotel room on the Island — at the expense of the advertiser.
