Know Before You Go: Education and Mentorship

Hello LD 47,

The Leadership Detroit team looks forward to welcoming you all to the upcoming Education and Mentorship session.

The Education and Mentorship session will explore the current state of education and talent development across Michigan and the Detroit Region, highlighting the challenges and opportunities that shape our learning landscape, efforts to improve student outcomes, and the role of public policy in driving meaningful change. In addition, participants will also gain perspectives on educational access and pathways to postsecondary success, while exploring the important role mentorship plays in supporting youth development, strengthening communities, and preparing the next generation of leaders. Through these conversations, we'll examine how professionals and organizations can contribute to educational success through mentorship, community engagement, and meaningful partnerships, while recognizing how mentoring others can broaden our perspectives, strengthen our leadership skills, and contribute to our own personal and professional growth.

As always, the agenda for each session is available online. Participants are encouraged to review the details below and come prepared with questions to help shape a meaningful and engaging experience. Any remaining inquiries may be directed to ld@detroitchamber.com.
